

GOOD PRACTICES EXCHANGES (MSEs/SMEs) VISIT TO LARGE COMPANY

A Good Practices Exchanges visit is a planned action, inviting Micro and Small Enterprises and Small & Medium-sized Enterprises to visit a large company to provide them with an insight on specific OSH management topics. Those Good Practices Exchanges visits should allow MSEs/SMEs to learn free-of-charge about effectively managing OSH issues.

The main objectives of those visits are:

- to raise awareness about specific OSH topics or campaign topic;
- to provide MSEs and SMEs with an insight and further information from the respective responsible experts and/or company representatives (e.g. of the fulfilment of safety and health measures in a best practice company, factories, offices, farms or building sites to demonstrate risks at work and highlight examples of best practice for preventing and avoiding risks). This should be especially helpful to gain knowledge on an issue in a concise and easily understandable way;
- to offer MSEs and SMEs a first-hand demonstration and advice from experts that they receive on-site regarding the OSH topic at stake.
